

Official announcement of the New Visual Identity

On October 8th 2008, SIVECO launched its official new visual identity during the inauguration of the new Technical Centre in Montpellier.

The ceremony, which took place in the presence of Mr Thines, Deputy Mayor of Montpellier and Mr Laplace, member of Montpellier's Council, provided the opportunity for SIVECO's Managing Director, Mr Koen Beckers, to unveil the new face of SIVECO.

The new visual identity is designed to compliment not only SIVECO's skills in combining modernisation and expertise in CMMS, but also its ambition to develop and extend its position in both national and international markets. Indeed, in 2008, SIVECO has opened two subsidiaries in Tunisia and Algeria and has added two more distributors to its international network.

The newly designed website (www.siveco.com) will complete the new visual identity package when it is launched this autumn. You will soon be able to find an animation of the new logo along with an explanation of its creation by using the above commercial website. However, you can already see a preview (flash plug in required) at http://www.siveco.com/anim/siveco_en.swf.

The announcement was followed by the official inauguration of our Technical Centre, where all departments are located: Research Centre, R&D, Product Department, Q&A and Technical Support Team.
